

SOU_

undulating vertical acoustic ceiling slat

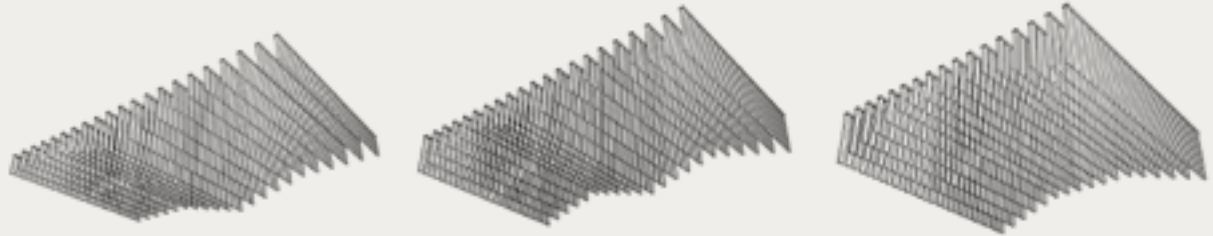

Sou was born from a mixed-reality project at the London Art Festival. A virtual architectural installation designed by the Japanese architect, Fujimoto was inspired by natural light structures such as the Northern Lights, and our human connection to light sources.

Sou embodied that vision with his own twist, a vertical acoustic ceiling slat. Available in a variety of 6 different drops to unlock your own undulating interpretation of the mixed-reality project. Let your creativity flow.
